

Claudette looks around the room embarrassed. She first looks to her right while playing with her hair and slumping in her seat. She starts asking Claude if he could be less loud and sloppy.

Claudette looks towards her left while continuing to speak.

Camera cuts to close up shot of Claude. He apologizes.

Claude's cheeks puff out.

A gusty belch escapes Claude's lips. His tuave is blown in the opposite direction for exaggerative effect.

Claude quickly clasps his hand over his mouth out of embarrassment.